School Officials Critical Of Decision, Will Appeal

County school trustee action Tuesday morning allowing Amarillo to annex 176 acres of land for school purposes was unwise and leaves Canyon school officials with little basis for predicting future school needs, local board representatives said following the county board decision.

Canyon School Board President Tom Keeling and Supt. Jerry Jacobs said the decision definitely sets a precedent which they believe other land developers will be anxious to test.

In a three to two vote Tuesday morning Randall County trustees approved the detachment of a 176-acre development in North Randall County from the Canyon Independent School District and the subsequent annexation of the land into the Amarillo school district. The action came a year after a handful of families in the tract petitioned for such a decision.

The Canyon district will appeal the decision to the Texas Commissioner of Education. Other appellate avenues include the state board of education and the district court in Austin.

"I definitely think this will set a precedent," Keeling said following the meeting. "It will set one we'll have to try to live with from now on. I think the decision was unwise."

Keeling said the Canyon board has been approached by several other developers in the South Amarillo area seeking to have their developments detached from the Canyon district and annexed by Amarillo's district. The Amarillo school board has been placed on record as encouraging such development annexations.

Keeling said the county school trustee action leaves up in the air current plans by the Canyon district to construct a new junior high and high school on a 60-acre tract of land near Hollywood Road in the north part of the county. Local board members purchased the land more than a year ago and have hired an architect to begin planning the two new schools to serve children in the South Amarillo area.

Keeling said planning will be difficult because the Canyon board will now be forced to consider how the Randall County trustees will consider future detachment petitions which he believes will surely come.

Supt. Jacobs said the Tuesday action constitutes "an open invitation to developers to build some houses and get people to buy them who favor Amarillo and then petition for annexation."

Jacobs said the trustee precedent petition that only a handful of residents in a large development tract can successfully convince the county trustees to allow annexation of the entire property.

Canyon school attorney Elton Cox had argued before trustee action that if so inclined they should allow the annexation of only those homes in the 176-acre development of Glenn O'Dell rather than the entire development.

Jacobs said the big problem facing the Canyon school board will be planning for future school needs in the northern portion of the district.

Jacobs said he feels the Canyon board would not decline to sit down with Amarillo school board members to discuss future plans for the development areas in the northern portion of the district. The suggestion came during discussion before trustee action Tuesday and was given impetus by Amarillo School Board member

Pete Dallas.

Following the meeting Tuesday, The News learned that a civil lawsuit filed against the Randall County school trustees by several families in the O'Dell development will be dismissed as a result of their action.

Amarillo attorney Bob Templeton, who represents the families, said as soon as he receives a copy of the motion for annexation by Amarillo he will initiate action to dismiss the suit, which asked that three of the trustees be ousted from office and that the district court declare the annexation over the heads of the trustees.

Templeton had promised trustees that with an affirmative vote he would dismiss the case during a public hearing on the issue last Thursday night.

"I told them what I'd do and I will do that," he said. The county board decision will not become effective until the appeals procedure has been exhausted. Cox said flatly following the Tuesday vote the Canyon board will appeal the decision.

The motion for detachment and annexation came after about 30 minutes of discussion Tuesday, and was presented by Canyon attorney J.D. Barker, a long-time board member.

Barker's motion called for the Amarillo district to pay the Canyon district for the pro rata share of the bonded indebtedness on the 176-acre tract, an amount just over $3000. In addition, the Amarillo district is to pay Canyon's district the tax revenue for the

County To Decide On Plan

Rural Fire Protection Re-Examined

A major proposal to change the method of rural fire protection for Randall County residents will be proposed to county commissioners when they meet again on Nov. 4, the News learned this week.

Commissioners tabled discussion of rural fire protection during their regular Monday session, but the News learned the proposal which will provide protection for rural residents and also save the county a substantial sum of money will be decided on at the Nov. 4 meeting.

The new proposal, the result of a negotiation session two weeks ago between three city officials and two county commissioners, would replace a current contract

Randall County has with the City of Amarillo. Under that agreement, the county has agreed to pay the city $800 per fire call to rural areas. That fee includes false alarms as well as major building fires.

The county currently contracts with the City of Canyon, also, to fight rural fires south of Hollywood Road in the rural portions of the county.

County Commissioners John Fulgenzi and Paul Lindsey met two weeks ago with Mayor Manly Bryan, City Manager George Louder, and Commissioner Jim Christopher of Canyon to discuss the fire situation. The meeting was held behind closed doors.

Randall commissioners have been critical for more than a year of Amarillo's charges for fighting rural fires. Under a contract for last year, Amarillo charged $845 per fire call to rural areas.

During their Monday regular session, commissioners learned from Dist. Atty. George Dowlen that the formation of paving districts for rural subdivisions or rural residents to pay for their own roads is legal under Texas law.

Dowlen was asked his legal opinion after Fulgenzi suggested the county look into the possibility of special legislation to allow for formation of paving districts.

The district attorney said the statutes allow for such formation, but several commissioners questioned whether the formation of such districts would solve what has become a knotty problem for commissioners.

Dowlen explained that the commission can itself form the districts, with the districts to become activated when the residents within the district petition the commissioners for an election to issue bonds for paving and road maintenance projects.

Commissioners generally agreed that formation of districts according to commissioner precinct lines would not be feasible in Randall County as it is in other counties, primarily due to the large number of subdivisions in several precincts.

Fulgenzi suggested each subdivision be named a paving district, when approved for platting.

"It offers the people a way to get a road paved if they just have to have one," Commissioner Bill Butler said of the plan.

"Now these people can come and pressure us," Fulgenzi said. "This would give them the vehicle and if they want to, they can pick up the tab."

Fulgenzi said each subdivision should be assigned a paving district designation, but Jim Fletcher said commissioners should designate paving districts on a case by case basis.

Lindsey suggested more study of the situation, although he lauded the merits of a paving district operation.

In other business, West Texas State University photography instructor Gort Rushmer, who lives south of Canyon on a dirt road, produced photos to show the condition of his road, which he complained has been poorly maintained for more than six years.

Rushmer asked commissioners to consider a facelift job on the road to enhance drainage.

Commissioners said when the road dries they will make their best effort at restructuring the road.

Commissioners approved the purchase of liability insurance for county sheriff's deputies and the sheriff at a cost of about $700 per year. The sheriff had requested an investigation into the possibilities for providing the insurance. The policy will cover such things as false arrest, libel, slander and other actions.

Proposed Amarillo Dumpground Location Won't Aid Local Plight

Opening of a new dumpground for the City of Amarillo in the northeastern part of Randall County will not alleviate problems now faced by the City of Canyon in the operation of its dump ground, City Manager George Louder said this week.

Louder's response was to an announcement Tuesday by Amarillo City Manager John Stiff that the city has taken an option to purchase a section of land at 58th and Osage in Randall County to operate a sanitary landfill location.

Canyon commissioners had hoped a suitable location for the Amarillo dump could be found in the northwest portion of the county to help reduce the burden now carried by Canyon's dump ground due to the heavy population concentration in South Amarillo.

"I'm sure it will not be of a great deal of assistance to us in serving the rural customers," Louder said of the Amarillo location. "It's not close enough to some of the population centers in the county. We're still going to be the closest to most of them."

Stiff told The News the city has made application to the Texas Department of Health to establish the sanitary landfill at the Osage location. Several other state agencies must pass on the location and the proposal must come to Randall County commissioners for their okay.

Stiff said he hopes the landfill will be in operation by the first of the year.

Louder said the location of Amarillo's dump to the south of that city might alleviate the situation at the Canyon dump somewhat, but said "I don't think we'll see a 50 per cent reduction."

Nevertheless, Louder said he would be satisfied if the Amarillo landfill simply stabilized the demand for space in the Canyon dump.

Canyon's landfill operation is located just off the VFW Road about two miles north of the city. In recent years, since its conversion to a landfill operation, the dump has received more and more activity from rural subdivisions and from South Amarilloans, who would prefer the closer drive to the Canyon site.

Costs for operation of the landfill have skyrocketed in recent years and Louder has estimated the need for more land for the landfill will be accelerated by the increase in demand.

Amarillo commissioners dropped plans last year for location of a landfill to the north of that city after citizen complaints. They were urged during joint meetings earlier this year with Randall County and Canyon officials to locate the dump south of Amarillo.

Equipment Needs, Funds Don't Jive

Working with a tight budget for auxiliary items, South Randall County Hospital District board members Monday night reviewed a long list of equipment they'd like to buy for their new hospital, but were also given a sobering picture of their meager financial means for such purchases.

Administrator Ray Grimes produced a budget figure of $27,000 which will remain after construction costs for the new Palo Duro Hospital and said the hospital staff has a list of about $150,000 worth of equipment to fill needs in the new hospital. The needs list includes $18,000 worth of kitchen equipment, $25,000 for special care unit monitors, $70,000 for an x-ray machine and $8,000 for laboratory equipment.

The list does not include furniture for lobbies and office areas, or for records equipment.

"This is what we're trying to buy for $27,000?" asked board member Vernon Harman, with a measure of disbelief.

Grimes presented a financial statement indicating that when the Palo Duro Hospital is completed, hopefully by Jan. 1, the board will have paid out another $374,290 for construction costs, about $7,000 for architectural fees, another $16,000 for sterilizer equipment, $34,000 for bed units for rooms, $34,000 for paving of a street, leaving about $27,000 for the equipment cited in his list.

"I'd say if we don't have too many change orders we could get by with close to this amount," Grimes said.

"It's closer than I thought we (See NEEDS, Page 5)

Screwworms Spotted Here; The First Case In Years

The first positive case of screwworms in cattle in at least six years has been identified in Randall County.

County Agent John Brazzil said officials at the Mission, Texas laboratory of the southwestern screwworm eradication program made the positive identification on a county horse.

The positive case was from a sample submitted for lab examination on Oct. 15.

Brazzil said the identification is important because it indicates the prevalence of fertile screwworm flies in the Randall County area, a fact which could jeopardize hundreds of head of cattle here.

"All livestock owners in this area and particularly those who have land and livestock in or near the rough canyon lands in the eastern sections of Randall County should be aware of this hazard," Brazzil said. "All newly purchased cattle should be carefully inspected for signs of infection. Stockmen who do surgical work, branding, ear notching and dehorning should take precautions to treat all wounds and use preventive measures such as residual spraying."

He suggested stockmen consult their veterinarians for proper treatment and prevention measures. "Stockmen who discover worm-infested wounds in livestock should collect some of the larvae and preserve the larvae in a water or alcohol solution and have proper identification made," he said.

Screwworms are the larval form of the screwworm fly and the larvae are live flesh eaters. (See CASE, Page 5)

Grazing Prospects Good For Winter

Nurturing rains on what could be a record acreage of wheat on Randall County farms may lead to a record number of winter wheat grazing here this winter.

Only about 8,000 head of cattle are grazing on winter wheat pasture currently, but that number is expected to reach a high of nearly 65,000 head by the first of the year.

County Agent John Brazzil said the influx of cattle into the county has begun and can be expected to continue at a rapid rate due to the large number of acres planted.

Early week rains could have some delaying effect on the movement of cattle into the county, he said.

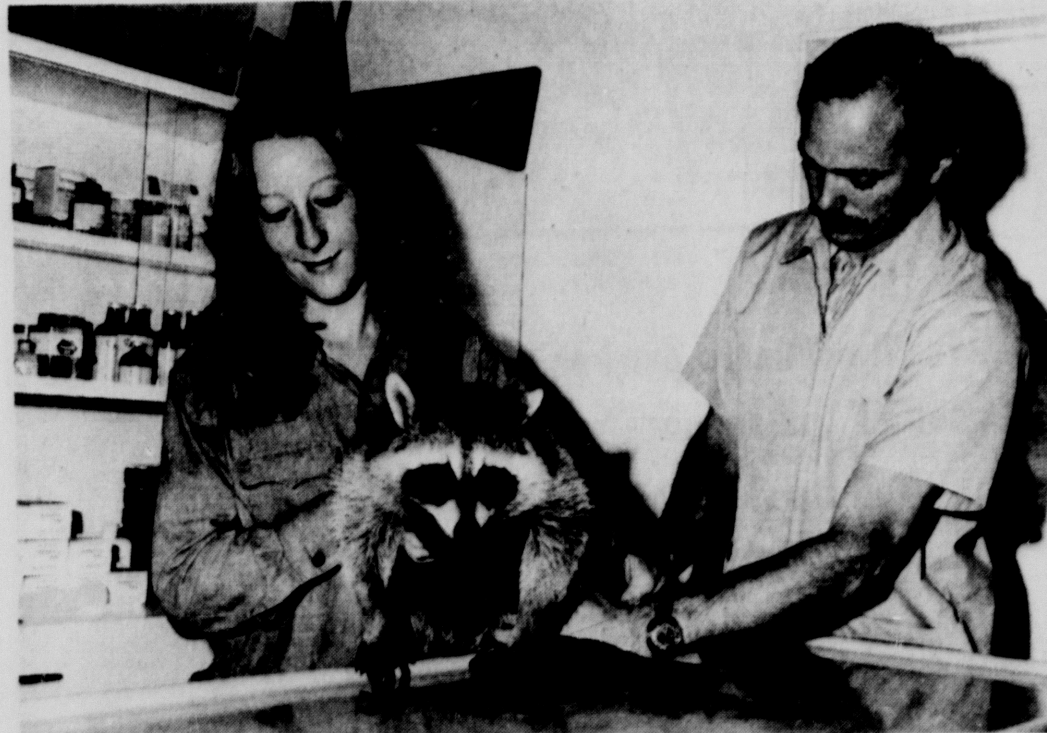

"I think we'll have a tremendous number of cattle even though the rate is now a little slow," Brazzil said. Fields, boggy from rainfall earlier in the month, were soaked again Tuesday and Wednesday by slow rains.

"The wheat is rooted down, so it's now ready," he said.

An unpredictable market situation for stocker cattle is also a factor in the movement of cattle into the county. Some experts have predicted that many stockmen will opt for a longer grazing period before turning cattle over to feedyards for finishing.

Brazzil said the stocker cattle market is more reasonable now than it has been in some time, while the feeder market is down considerably. Many farmers fear that the market will not be particularly stable when the cattle come off pasture next March to go into feedyards.

WT Professor Gaining Recognition

A West Texas State University education professor is fast gaining international recognition for her work in developing practical uses for psycholinguistic teaching.

Dr. Wilma Jo Bush has been invited to address the Danish Association of Speech and Voice Therapists next spring. She will explain her practical applications of the theory behind psycholinguistics.

Briefly, that means developing a retarded or slow child's ability to hear and vocalize ideas and concepts. Dr. Bush and colleagues who embrace that theory feel it is the key to taking subnormal achievers out of categories and allowing them to progress at varying speeds.

Dr. Bush's reputation will have preceded her to Europe by a year. Danish school teachers have been using her book for some time. Since April, educators in Spain have been using Aides to Psycholinguistic Teaching in their language.

This is a first for Dr. Bush. She and fellow learning specialists have collaborated on several books, but this is the first instance of one being published in a foreign tongue.

"The translation is quite literal," says Dr. Bush. "Some of the stories I had made up for fun came out almost exactly as I related them. For instance, I used the names of some of my friends and relatives in the book. They even used the same first names — in Spanish of course."

The stories are to be used by teachers to help the retarded assimilate facts and then communicate them. Dr. Bush says it will be a valuable tool not only for the retarded, but for children with speech or hearing difficulties.

"The book deals with the ten areas of psycholinguistics," Dr. Bush says. "It's built on the Illinois Test of Psycholinguistics. We interpreted the test into a series of learning schemes for the classroom teacher and circulated that in mimeograph form originally. From that grew the book."

Dr. Bush says it took over a year to complete the book. It tells a teacher how to deal with a particular psycholinguistic disability after it is discovered through testing.

Dr. Bush has been on the West Texas State University faculty since 1972.

Painting Honors WT Librarian

A painting "Antelope Hills" by Mrs. Olive Vanduff Bugbee has been placed in West Texas State University's Cornette Library in honor of Miss Bertie May Williams, who at the time of her death was head of reference, documents and interlibrary loan. "She was exceptionally devoted and concerned in helping students and faculty of West Texas State University with their research needs," Mrs. Delpha Gard, associate librarian for reader services, said.

The purchase of the painting, according to Mrs. Gard, "was made possible by friends, relatives and many former students who have known and loved Miss Williams and who have benefitted from her long and devoted service."

Miss Williams served 38 years as a member of the library staff.

The painting is located on the west wall near the Circulation Department. Mrs. Bugbee, who is art curator for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, has depicted a site south of the Canadian River which is near the east border of the Panhandle.

An endowment fund has also been established in memory of Miss Williams. Mrs. Gard stated, "From this fund will be generated yearly scholarship for a student who is interested in librarianship or who has worked in the library."

N.M. Highway Okays U.S. Redesignation

The New Mexico Highway Department has submitted to Washington officials a final report declaring a proposal to designate U.S. 60 an interstate highway from Amarillo to Las Cruces, N.M., on a route through Canyon is feasible.

Ed Timmons, Texas Highway Department official in Amarillo, said the New Mexico report, which embodies a THD report declaring the feasibility of the proposal, has gone to the Federal Highway Commission.

It will be presented the Congress on Jan. 1, for consideration. The Congress is expected to either redesignate U.S. 60 a part of the federal interstate system, thereby obligating funds at some future date for the upgrading of the highway, or declare the highway remain as is.

Timmons said the New Mexico highway officials simply added their state's report on the feasibility of change to a report submitted last August by the THD. The THD report said the redesignation is feasible along a route which would follow the current U.S. 60 route from Amarillo through Canyon and west to Hereford.

Students Work Exhibited

The New Outlook Art Gallery in West Texas State University's Activities Center Room 210 will exhibit more than 45 student art pieces this week.

Scott Taylor, gallery sponsor, said the works are for sale at a "pretty inexpensive" price.

The gallery will be open from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday and 1-11 p.m. Sunday.

an interstate would give Canyon access to two interstate highways — Interstate 27, which is now routed through the city, and the proposed interstate.

New Mexico and Texas city and county officials have been discussing the possibility of a redesignation of U.S. 60 for more than two years, holding meetings in Hereford numerous times to discuss strategy.

Sen. Joe Montoya of New Mexico has pushed for the redesignation.

Canyon Chamber of Commerce officials and others have gone on record in favor of the redesignation, which would not mean the interstate would bypass Canyon.

Junior Class Magazine Sales

The junior class at Canyon High School has begun their annual magazine sales. The sales began Tuesday and will run for two weeks.

Money made in the project will be used for the junior-senior prom and the class gift when the class graduates. A goal of $8000 has been set for the project. The magazine sales will be the only project for the class this year.

According to Melody Swauger, junior class sponsor, one half of all profits over the $8000 goal will go to the Kelly Forehand Fund.

Other class sponsors are Gail Albracht, Tom Henderson, Mary Jane Reeves and Leonard Kent.

Anyone interested in subscribing to a magazine or renewing a subscription is asked to call either a class sponsor or a member of the junior class.

The rest of his clothes burned up. Better change laundromats, Dwight, that's an unfortunate way to get a new wardrobe.

JOE SCHUELE FROM Ord, Nebraska, is visiting his sisters, Mrs. Ben Koch and Mrs. Raymond Batenhorst. While here, he is also visiting with other relatives in Vega, Dalhart, and Hereford. Mr. Schuele will return to his home early next week. It has been 12 years since his last visit here and he was surprised at how green everything is.

Secretaries Have Program

Tierra Blanca chapter of the National Secretaries Association, International met last Thursday, Oct. 17, at the First National Room for the second in a series of meetings being conducted by Dr. Jack Nance and Mary Lou Farnum.

The program dealing with "self concepts" will be further studied at the chapter's November 21 meeting. At last Thursday's meeting, the group also discussed their recent fund raising garage sale and made plans for another sale to be held November 9. Proceeds from both will go to the scholarship fund for a university student studying in the secretarial field.

THE CHARLESTON will be interpreted by Miss Karen Johnson during the 'Great Gatsby Gala' Saturday evening. Joining Miss Johnson for the exhibition of '20s dancing will be Misses Vicki Foster, Valerie McCarthey and Judy Tolk.

'Great Gatsby Gala' Saturday

A nostalgic return to the 1920's is in store for guests attending the 'Great Gatsby Gala' being held by the Advisory Council on Campus Enhancement Saturday evening, October 26.

The glorious days of the 1920's will be the theme for the evening with proceeds from the project going toward planned improvement projects at West Texas State University.

The fun-evening of 'Great Gatsby' will be held in the Dining Hall at WTSU beginning at 8 p.m. with a revue of fashions to be presented on the mezzanine from both Amarillo and Canyon merchants.

Appropriate music from the 1920's era will form the background for the fashion revue as the WTSU String Quartet performs under the direction of Dr. Michael Matesky, faculty sponsor and music coach. The quartet consists of Greg Shaffer, first violin; Jimmy Caddell, second violin; Don Harrington, viola; and James Wolder, cello.

A dessert course featuring Patissieres, Choux a la creme and Capuccino (coffee) will be served during the early evening and after the fashions and charleston are presented guests will relinquish the mezzanine floor to the West Texas State Band for an evening of "remember when tunes."

The Stage Band, conducted by David Ritter with Jamie Martin as acting conductor, will present selections for the duration of the evening as the 'Gatsby' guests are invited to partake of the entertainment of their choice in either the Oval Room, Gold Room or Green Room.

City Delays Plat Decision

Canyon city commissioners tabled a plat presented by local developer Aubrey Crossland Monday night, pending further legal research into the abandonment of an alley.

Crossland proposed the plat for a new subdivision in Canyon, to be called the Tierra Blanca subdivision.

A public hearing was set for Nov. 18 on a zoning request for the area by Crossland. The zoning sought is single family.

In other business Monday, commissioners instructed City Manager George Loudder to work up an ordinance for changing the fire zone code in the city. Loudder proposed a new code which will update and modernize the old fire zone code for construction of buildings in the city.

The Rev. Terry White and Mrs. Gene Glazener were appointed by commissioners to three-year terms on the Canyon Library Board.

Alleys Due Aid

City crews will begin working as soon as alleys and streets are dry to grade those right-of-ways for convenient passage, City Manager George Loudder said last week.

Loudder said he's received numerous complaints about muddy and virtually impassable alleys and dirt streets, but that the city crews could make no headway to correct the situation until the alleys and streets were dry.

He said it would take about three weeks to complete the grading and caliche spreading on the streets.

He said crews will try to finish work on alleys before winter.

He urged citizens with particularly impassable alleys or streets to call city hall and they will be given priority consideration.

Bond Sales Near Goal

Series E and H United States Savings Bond sales in Randall County during the month of August totaled $28,590, according to County Bond Chairman Don Vers. Sales for the eight-month period were $167,117 for 67% of the 1974 sales goal of $250,000.

Texans purchased $18,667,526 in Savings Bonds during the month, while sales for the same period last year totaled $17,913,390 — an increase of 4.2%.

Year-to-date sales amounted to $154,751,211 for 65% of the sales goal of $236.8 million.

KWTS--'On The Air'

From a modest and relatively recent beginning in the spring of 1971, when it broadcast only four or five hours weekly on time donated by KCAN, KWTS-FM, "The Voice of West Texas State University," has shown growth and development throughout its operation.

KWTS director Paul Matney, a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin and WTSU, recalls that only eight students were involved when the station began in 1971. They now have over 30 students broadcasting over nine hours daily at 91.1 megahertz on the FM dial.

"A 10-watt non-commercial educational station, KWTS exists to serve the University community and Canyon with quality radio programming. Our situation enables us to offer much better programming than could a commercial station," he pointed out.

"In addition," Matney said, "we serve as a training program for broadcast students, giving them practical experience which we think is very important. We have sent many of our students to the Amarillo market where they have taken full-time jobs in radio; but they got their start right here."

A totally student-operated station, KWTS draws its staff from the ranks of journalism students, students enrolled in Speech 291 (Radio Workshop), and others who have no desire to follow a career in radio but want to learn more about the inner workings of a station because they recognize the influence of radio and television," Matney continued.

News director Doug McDonough and sports editor Nick Nixon are two of the key members of this year's KWTS staff in addition to Matney. McDonough and his news staff are responsible for gathering, writing and reporting campus news at 5 p.m. and 9 p.m. Monday through Friday. Nixon interviews coaches and athletes on all aspects of sports at WT, presenting his findings in two 15-minute shows per week scheduled at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and Friday, and 11 p.m. Wednesday.

WT Introspect, which is done by Matney, consists of interviews with faculty members, administrators and University guests, and fills the 7 p.m. slot each Tuesday.

Other full-length radio shows originating at WTSU are "WT Sports Review" at 5:30 p.m. on Monday, Buffalo Country" at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, and "Maroon Network" at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday. All three shows are prepared by Wayne Hughes and members of the University News staff, and are aired by commercial radio stations as well.

Falling in the community service category are such shows as the "Bulletin Board," aired seven times weekly, and the national and state news, with nine weekly time slots. The WTSU Student Association report may be heard each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. During football season the 7:30 p.m. slot each Friday is given to Canyon high school football including the pre-game show.

As an affiliate member of the University of Texas tape network, KWTS also carries a number of programs originating at UT Austin. "The Arts Out There," scheduled for 6:30 p.m. each Wednesday, probes the relationship of the arts to all of society through interviews, discussions and documentaries.

"The Inquiring Mind," carried by KWTS at 6:30 p.m. each Thursday, attempts to reveal the human intelligence at work expanding man's view of himself and his universe. Other programs in the UT network series are "200 Years," an American bicentennial program, "The Human Condition," "Men and Ideas," "University Forum," "University of Texas Music and Musicians," "Capitol Gallery" and "Texas Business Review."

KWTS begins and ends its time on the air each day with music. "Most of our music broadcasting is rock and blue grass," Matney stated, "but we are also trying to promote classical music this year. Members of the new American String Teachers Association chapter in the Music Department have volunteered to assist in the Wednesday evening music broadcasting and are sponsoring a show of classical music during that time," he added.

City To Host UIL Workshops

West Texas State University will host the University Interscholastic League (UIL) workshops Nov. 9 in the WTSU Activities Center (AC). Co-sponsoring the event with WTSU and UIL is the Region XVI PESO Education Service Center.

Participating in the seven morning events will be more than 500 area high school students.

"The student activities conferences are the training grounds for many of our academic and literary champions," Dr. Rhea H. Williams, League director, has said. "I urge students and sponsors to attend the conference nearest them."

Dr. Jack Walker, head of the WTSU Department of Speech, will open the events with a welcome scheduled for 8:45 a.m. The students will then go to one of the seven different competitions available.

The Ready Writing event will be chaired by Dr. Larry Cook, WTSU associate professor of English, and will take place in AC Room 216. Students will be asked to write a sample paragraph, and judging will stress paragraphing and coherence.

The Speech contest in AC Room 202E will be divided into Informative Speaking-Persuasive Speaking, chaired by Ms. Neva Chowning, Canyon High School instructor; Poetry Interpretation-Prose Reading, chaired by Dr. Zell SoKelle, WTSU associate professor of speech; and Demonstration Debate and Analysis, chaired by Guy Yates, WTSU speech professor.

Number Sense, scheduled in AC Room 206, will be headed by WTSU's David Patterson, and the Slide Rule contest will be held in AC Room 206 with David Lasher.

Bill Lee, head of the WTSU Department of Journalism, will direct the Journalism contest in AC Room 216. Students will have five sections: Features — Write with Life and Vigor, Newswriting — Factual Communication, Headlines — One Key to Readership, Photojournalism — More Than Just Pictures and Editorials — A Clear Strong Voice.

The Science contest in AC Room 125 will be chaired by Dr. Ronnie Waide of WT, and the One-Act Play division will be held in the Fine Arts Building with William A. Moore, WTSU.

Each contest will begin at 9 a.m. and will run approximately until noon. Interested students should contact their school's counselors.

Open House Held Sunday

LaCasa Canyon Nursing Home was the site of an open house held Sunday afternoon with approximately 100 guests visiting the patients and being served refreshments.

Floral arrangements for the open house were presented courtesy of Steven's Flowers and HR's of Canyon.

Entertaining at the open house were a number of area residents including The Chandler Family Band; Jenny Thrower on violin; singers Dorene, Marjie Campsey, and Doris Clifton; Irve Sandlin and Buck Ramsey, singing with guitar accompaniment; and a group from West Texas State University who staged a "puppet show."

Hostesses for the afternoon open house were the 'Friends of LaCasa' a new volunteer auxiliary organization.

phone system for the Potter, Randall, Canyon and Amarillo area, a system which would provide one number for emergencies in almost any location within the two counties. Dowlen said the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. will not produce a cost estimate for the system until all four entities agree to join.

In other business, commissioners approved purchase of a new car for the sheriff's office from Stevenson Motor Co. of Canyon for $4496. Other bidders were Imperial Chevrolet of Canyon, $4720; Jess Ford of Canyon, $4569; and Plains Chevrolet of Amarillo, $4736.

County Judge Woody Pond read a letter from Amarillo architect Art Vaughan, who has designed a new South Amarillo courthouse annex, which stated that six construction firms have picked up bid sheets for construction of the annex. Vaughan said the six are expected to submit bids for the building.

Bids are to be opened in early November.

were going to be," Harman said. Grimes suggested the board begin thinking about possible donations to help defray acquisition expenses for room furniture, kitchen equipment and other needed equipment for the hospital.

Following the Monday meeting, board members toured the new facility, which is virtually completed on a site in east Canyon.

Workmen are now finishing inside walls and floors.

Brazill said with the easing of government restrictions on wheat acres planted, the county should have probably as much acreage as in 1972, a record wheat crop year for Randall County. With that much wheat, the cattle numbers should hit close to the 65,000 figure.

Almost any number of cattle grazing on wheat would be better than the number in the county last winter, when the wheat crop was plagued by a continuing drouth, broken only by rains last August.

next five years from the property.

Amarillo trustee Don Marsh, who has consistently said in the past he would vote for what the majority of the residents of the development desired, cast a "for" vote along with Barker. Randall County farmer Joe Turpin also cast a "for" vote.

No votes came from Charles Purcell of the north part of the county and R.B. Gist Jr., chairman of the board and a farmer in the southern portion of the county.

Cox said the board acted hastily by not checking out the legality of the petition submitted by the O'Dell development residents. He contended that the petition and its description of the property to be detached and annexed by Amarillo were in violation of the state law.

Barker pushed aside the Cox suggestion and said the petition should remain intact since he was sure an appeal would be filed.

During discussion before the motion was passed, Cox reminded the trustees that it is illogical to allow a handful of residents to decide the fate of a 176-acre tract. He urged the trustees to annex only about an acre of property, that land which now has houses, rather than the entire development. Cox pointed to the precedent such action will set.

Before making his motion, Barker said he was not so concerned with the future of either the Canyon or the Amarillo school districts as with the future of the children involved, children who now attend Canyon schools.

In fact, Barker went so far as to suggest the Amarillo and Canyon boards get together to plan for further annexations by Amarillo, possibly extending deep into the district on the west side of the Canyon expressway.

RESERPINE

You should know that while you are taking this medication you should be careful what else you may take, because not all combinations "mix" well in the body.

For instance, Reserpine is said to inhibit (decrease the effectiveness of) the pain-killing qualities of ASPIRIN.

On the other hand, Reserpine increases the effects of ALCOHOL and ANTIHISTAMINES, leading, of course to decidedly undesirable results.

Other drugs, such as quinine or quinidine are also likely to be "un-mixable."

Eagles Take Friday Night Off

The Canyon Eagles have taken this week off for rest and repairs. The Eagles will have a much needed open date this Friday night following seven games, six of which were against 1-A school and the seventh was one of the toughest district foes.

The Eagles rest easy this week with the first district win under their belt but next week the shadow of the Perryton Rangers will hover on the horizon of a Friday evening contest. The Eagles will play Perryton here Nov. 1. The Eagles are somewhat deflated in manpower. Three top players on defense are out for the remainder of the season. Kelly Forehand, Bob Lindsey and Steve McCormick will not return to action this year. Forehand was hurt Sept. 19 in the Caprock game. Lindsey is out due to a knee injury in the Palo Duro game and McCormick is out due to a broken fibula suffered last Friday night at Dumas.

There are now five of the original starters on the Canyon spring defensive unit that are no longer playing for the Eagles. Two members were out prior to the start of fall drills — one moved, the other was ineligible. There are now only two starting seniors on the defensive unit. Last spring there were only two underclassmen.

The boys who have replaced seniors and those who will be replacing Forehand, Lindsey and McCormick are described by Ron Mills, head football coach at CHS, as being capable players to fill the new assignments given them.

Mills said that the team will have light workouts this week. Monday the team watched the Dumas game film and did some running. Due to the rain Tuesday the team worked in the commons on the campus and also watched a film. Mills said that as soon as possible they would begin trying to work out the mistakes made during the Dumas game.

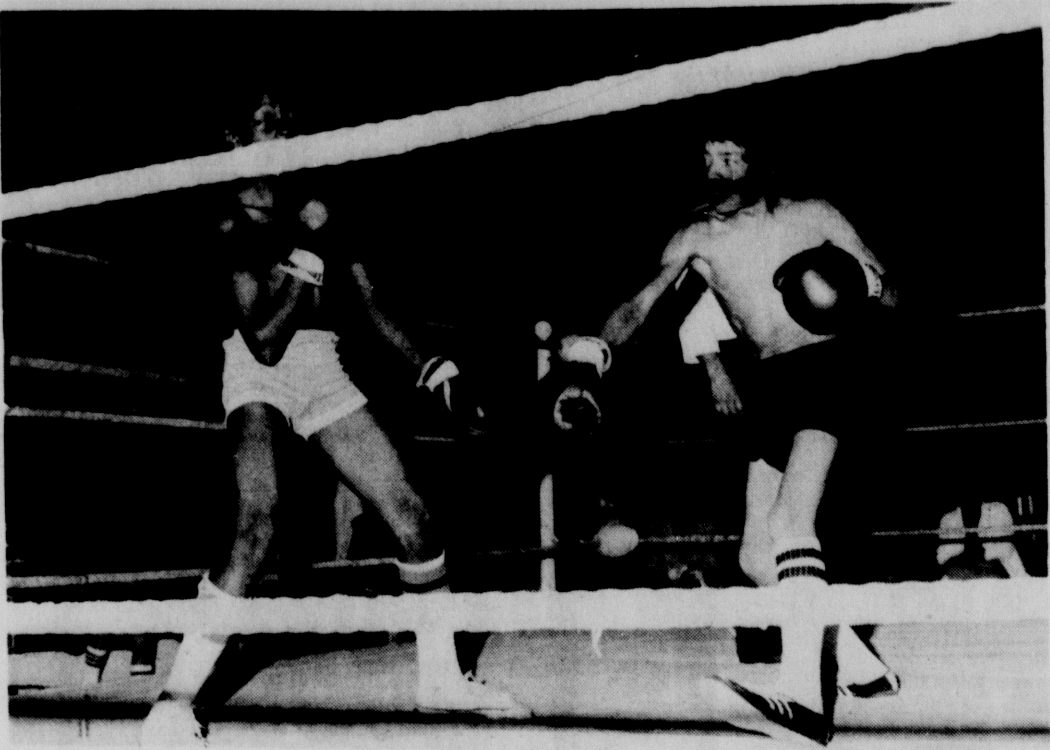

Mills said that most of the mistakes made during the Dumas game were individual mistakes. Mills feels that Dumas has a good team though they are not a physically strong team. He said that with the mistakes the Eagles made, they were lucky to win the game.

He stated the Dumas game was one of the best games played by the Eagle defensive secondary.

Tech Cross-Country Meet Moved Up

West Texas State University's cross-country team will get a break from competition Saturday (Oct. 26), but it won't be a lost week.

The four-way meet in Lubbock with Texas Tech, Wayland Baptist, Lubbock Christian and WT planned for that date, has been moved up to Wednesday (Oct. 23), giving the four teams their second meet in five days.

Last Saturday, WT's Joseph Tiony continued his domination of area competition on the quadrangular meet at Hunsley Hills Country Club. The freshman from Eldoret, Kenya, covered the four-mile course in 19:47 to easily outdistance the field.

Overall, the Buffs finished third in their own meet.

Wednesday in Lubbock, Tiony will be joined by sophomore Jay Jones and freshmen Jim Burgess, Bill Montgomery and David Standifer.

Following the trip to Lubbock, the Buffs will concentrate on the Missouri Valley Conference championships scheduled for Nov. 2 in Wichita. The NCAA championships will be Nov. 25 at the University of Indiana.

Bufs Placed Well In MVC Team Stats

West Texas State Buffaloes are placed well in Missouri Valley Conference team and individual statistics according to a recent release from the conference headquarters.

The Buffs lead the MVC in yards per carry. The Buffs have carried the ball 337 times gaining 1452 yards or an average of 242 yards per game. They are followed by New Mexico State who has gained an average of 235.6 yards per game.

In rushing defense, the Buffs are second to New Mexico State. New Mexico State has held their opponents to 133.3 yards per game, while the Buffs have held opponents to 144 yards per game.

Experience Plagues CHS Basketball

Twisted ankles and infected blisters are hampering workouts of the Canyon High School basketball team as two-day workouts have begun.

The largest obstacle on the basketball horizon for B. B. Kendrick, head coach for CHS basketball, is the lack of experience among the 34 boys who are presently out for the sport. According to Kendrick, he expects 15 more to report for basketball following the end of football season. Even among those presently in football there is little experience to be added to the 1974-75 team.

Kendrick said that this is the largest turnout for basketball that he has had since coming to Canyon.

The only two players who have varsity experience are Lynn Wright, who started on the varsity last year, and Ken Cooper who was on the varsity squad but saw only limited action. Wright was named all-district last year.

"We don't look real bad for the first week," Kendrick stated. He said that his players are working on fundamentals and trying to get into shape for the coming full scale workouts.

Kendrick stated that the way things look now he will start two sophomores, two juniors and one senior when the season begins. He said that if the team matures quickly it could be a good year. If they did not mature, they had better be ready to "take it on the chin."

The team will begin pre-district play with two games a week. Kendrick stated that the team will begin with a light schedule and end with a heavy schedule of games and tournaments prior to district. He said that the team would have an opportunity to mature before being faced with continuous play.

The locals will be facing a tough schedule this year but according to Kendrick this is one thing that gives Canyon a strong team each year. The round ballers will face Hereford, Borger, Lubbock High, Friona, who won state last year and has three returning all-state players, and all the Amarillo schools during the first nine games.

Kendrick feels that he has a good shooting club. He stated that speed and defensive ability was a worry at present. He said that they would not use the press as much this year as in the past. He said that the press would be used more as a surprise tactic. The press will not be used as much due to the lack of speed. A zone press will utilize this year.

Size is another factor which will plague the Eagles. John Johnson will be the only Eagle with any height. Johnson is six feet three inches tall.

Kendrick said that three teams will represent CHS on the hardwood this year. The varsity, junior varsity and a junior varsity "B" team will be fielded. Mike Auld will coach the junior varsity and Gary Conner will coach the junior varsity "B" team.

"It is going to be an interesting year," according to Kendrick.

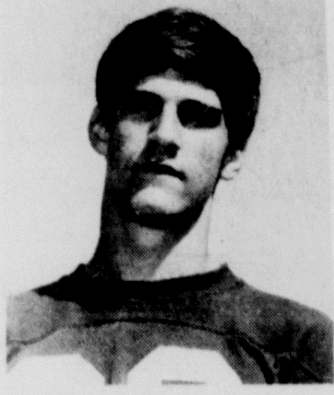

Basketball Clinic Set For Saturday

Area junior college and high school basketball coaches will get a first-hand look at West Texas State University's staff program when the Buffalo staff hosts its first coaching clinic Saturday (Oct. 26) on campus.

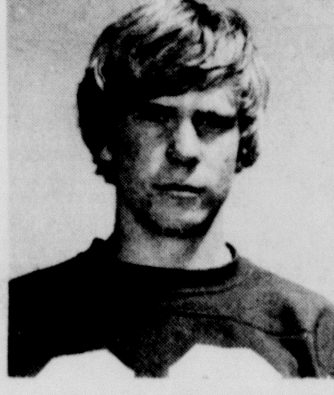

Registration for the one-day event is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in room 206 in the Activities Center. There is no charge.

The clinic itself gets underway at 10 a.m. at the AC, and the group will move to Buffalo Fieldhouse at 1:30 p.m. to observe WTSU's varsity basketball practice.

Buffers Take On Utah State Aggies

The WTSU Buffaloes will take on Utah State Aggies in Logan, Utah at 2:30 (CDT) p.m. Saturday in E. L. Romney Stadium. A crowd of 12-13,000 is expected for Utah State's Homecoming.

WT is off to its best start ever under Coach Gene Mayfield with a 4-2 standing while USU is 4-1. The only loss USU has suffered was at the hands of Oklahoma (72-0).

The Buffs will be trying to win for the first time in a short rivalry. Utah State has won all three meetings between the two schools, including a 36-14 decision last year. The Buffs had never beaten Idaho before the 21-6 win two weeks ago.

Phil Krueger, Utah State coach, stands 11-5 in the middle of his second season in Logan. Previously, he had been an assistant at Illinois and Southern California for seven years. Krueger was an assistant at Utah State in 1963 when they led the nation in scoring.

The Buffs had a multitude of bumps and bruises in the Tulsa game but the Maroon may be in the best shape in six weeks for the Aggies. The right side of the WT defensive line was hardest hit against Tulsa with end Ben Bentley and tackle Mike Lusane nursing deep bruises, but neither taking it easy during the early practice sessions, two players who have been hobbled by hamstring injuries will be going full-speed again. Halfback Jimmy Lisle, WT's leading rusher last year, and safety Mile Lozano will be available again this week.

Last week WT lost on a missed field goal and Utah won when Al Knapp hit a 41 yard field goal in the last two minutes which gave the Utags a 27-24 win over Kent State during an Ohio snowstorm. Tailback Louie Giammona and fullback Jerry Cox accounted for 347 of USU's 369 total yards with 212 and 135 yards rushing totals respectively.

The Buffs outgained the Hurricanes 302-276 in total yards. A fumble and blocked punt gave TU 10 easy points in the third quarter which gave them the winning edge.

Steve Rogers stopped a long TU drive in the fourth quarter with an interception. Rogers and Lusane teamed to sack TU quarterback Jeb Blount during the final quarter.

West Texas will have to adjust from Tulsa's strong passing attack to Utah State's explosive rushing game this week. The Utags will rely mainly on the legs of Louie Giammona and Jerry Cox, the setbacks in the USU I-formation, for their offensive totals. Giammona rushed a school-record 45 times for 212 yards against Kent State, while Cox tackled on 135 more. Giammona, a 5-9, 176-pound junior, now stands as the 11th all-time rusher in the USU recordbook with 1,044 yards. Against Kent, Utah State rushed 88 times for 358 yards and threw only five times, completing one for 11. The big factor in the 27-24 win was Utah State's abstinence from turnovers. The Aggies did not fumble at all while Kent lost five of eight bobbles.

In the Missouri Valley Conference race, Tulsa is in the driver's seat for its second straight title after a day of surprising upsets. The Hurricane, Louisville and New Mexico State went into Saturday's play tied with 2-0 records, but the TU-WT game became a battle for first place after Drake upset Louisville 38-35 and North Texas State canned NMSU 24-19. TU is now 3-0 in the MVC. Louisville and NMSU are 2-1 and WT is 2-2.

Buff Basketball Outlook Bright

Ron Ekker is blunt about the outlook for his West Texas State Buffaloes in the 1974-75 Missouri Valley Conference basketball chase.

"I think we'll be one of the top three teams in the conference," is his straightforward appraisal.

Strong words, but West Texas State hopes to have the team to back them up. All five starters return from last year's improving 11-15 club, making chances for WT's first winning season in three years bright.

Heading the list of returnees are a pair of second team All-MVC players in 6-8 center Reggie Ramey and 6-4 guard Joe Cooley. The Buffs' second leading scorer, 6-2 guard Howard Taylor, also returns (see WTSU All-Star Candidates).

The frontline players at forward, 6-10 Dallas Smith and 6-6 1/2 Dana Albright, also return, but the addition of a top junior college star and a highly-recruited freshman cloud the picture at forward.

Eugene Smith, a 6-5 native of Hobbs, N.M., by way of Southwestern, Okla., Junior College, has the best shot at moving one of the returning starters to the bench. Smith averaged 20.3 points and 13.8 rebounds a game in junior college after an all-state career at Hobbs.

The top freshman looks to be 6-5 forward William Dize, a Basketball Weekly prep All-American at Chicago's DuSable High. A high school teammate of Dize, guard Maurice Cheeks, and Karl Bradley of Fort Worth, are two other freshmen listed on the pre-season varsity roster.

Bruce Taylor, left, sophomore letterman and Dana Albright, senior letterman work one-on-one as they prepare for the basketball season. The WT Buffs will host the Brazilian Nationals November 22 in their first appearance on the hardwood this year.

Buffers Ranked Among Individual Leaders

Eight WT Buffalo football standouts are among the top 10 individual leaders in their respective positions according to a release from the MVC home office in Tulsa.

Three Buff players are in second place in their fields.

Bruce Wyre, WT field goal specialist, is tied for second in kick scoring. He is 13 out of 19 extra point tries and two out of six for field goals. He has a total of 24 points.

Rick Mordecai is second in punt returns. Mordecai has returned 10 punts for 101 yards or an average of 10.1 yards per carry.

Steve Rogers has made four interceptions for 32 yards which places him second in interception.

Tracy Dickson is fifth in total scoring in the MVC. Dickson has scored four touchdowns for a total of 24 points. Jim Germany of NMS leads with 12 TDs and two extra points for a 74 point total.

In rushing, John Darden is sixth with 83 attempts gaining 339 yards or a 4.1 per carry average. Darden has a 56.5 yard per game average. Ed Richardson is tenth in total rushing. He has carried the ball 53 times for 263 yards. He averages 4.9 yards per carry and 43.8 yards per game.

Tully Blanchard is sixth in passing. He has completed 25 out of 56 passes and had no interceptions. He has passed for a total of 458 yards and six touchdowns. He averages 76.3 yards per game.

Blanchard is seventh in total offense in the MVC. He has 142 yards rushing and 458 yards passing. He has a 100 yard per game average. Darden is 12th in total offense. He has rushed for 339 yards.

Ed Richardson is seventh in punting. He has punted 28 times for a 33.9 yard per kick average.

Merced Solis is seventh in receiving. He has caught 15 passes for 220 yards and three touchdowns.

MVC Standings

The Missouri Valley Conference's team-statistical leaders all remained the same, but Drake's offensive explosion against the potent Louisville defense sure provided for some major shuffling in the standings.

Cracking for 441 yards on the ground, the most prolific production of the year for the Valley (the previous high was 433 by West Texas State), and another 131 in the air for a total-offense day of 572, also the best for the season, the Bulldogs jumped all the way to third in rushing offense and total offense.

What's more, Drake now stands only nine yards back of New Mexico State, the season-long total-offense leaders, with a 330.3 average, compared with the Aggies' 339.3, heading into this weekend's direct confrontation of the two in Las Cruces. Sandwiched between the two is West Texas, showing a 335.7 reading.

With Jim Herndon crashing for 191, a mark one-yard shy of being the best in the league this year; Jim O'Connor hitting for 141, his best of year; and Jerry Heston getting another 99, his top mark, too; Drake went 81 yards over its old rushing record. The 572 total yards also amounted to a Bulldog mark.

Though held to a seasonal low of only 127 yards on the ground, West Texas still held onto its ground-offense lead (242.0) and maintained its scoring-offense top spot (24). Tulsa leads in passing (195.8).

Defensively, New Mexico State continues atop three divisions — rushing (133.3), total (256.6), and scoring (11.6). Louisville, though battered and bruised by the Bulldogs, maintained the best in passing defense (96.0).

Bible Survey Courses To Be Taught At CHS

A survey course in the Old Testament will be taught at Canyon High School during the second quarter at the school. Instructor for the course will be Rene Heil, instructor of Bible courses at Faith Bible Center on the WTSU campus.

Heil stated that the course will deal with historical, poetry and prophetic areas of the Old Testament. He said that he hoped to develop a correct chronology of the Old Testament and to show the influence of the Old Testament on Western culture.

Text book for the course will be the Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

According to John Sommer, principal of Canyon High School, a survey of students was taken to measure the interest of the students in the course. He said that they had planned to have only one section for the course but due to demand there will be two sections with 25-26 students in each section.

Sommer stated that it has been the school's opinion for some time that a survey course in the Bible would be advantageous for the students.

Gladdis Samples Home From Visit

Mrs. Gladdis Samples has returned home after spending two weeks visiting with relatives including her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Samples at Hurst, and with her granddaughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Strecker and Colby, in San Antonio. She also visited with a daughter and family, the Paul Aldridges, while in Hurst and attended the funeral of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Vernon Samples, at Greenville. Mrs. Samples also visited in Dallas with relatives including Mr. and Mrs. Roy Money.

CHS Graduate Named To Group

Miss Yvonne Dooley, a West Texas State University junior majoring in social work, has been initiated into Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology, with active membership in the WTSU chapter.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Claire F. Dooley, a university employee, and resides on the Canyon campus. The 1972 Canyon High School graduate is also minoring in psychology.

Speech Professor To Contribute To Japanese Book

Dr. Zell R. SoRelle, associate professor of speech at West Texas State University, has been named one of the contributors to a commemorative volume to be published in Tokyo this fall. Bringing together academic papers by leading phoneticians and linguists of Europe, Asia and the Americas, the volume is being compiled by the Phonetic Society of Japan in honor of Dr. Masao Onishi.

Dr. Onishi, who is the president of the Phonetic Society of Japan, will reach KJUU, the auspicious age of seventy-seven, in November. KJUU is the age which is customarily celebrated in Japan, and the contributions of the international community of phoneticians and linguists are being made in Onishi's honor.

The phonemization of selected poems by Marianne Moore is the topic of Dr. SoRelle's contribution. Her paper analyzes the unusual segmental phonology of Miss Moore's poetry. "A chiasmatically arranged phonemes, a frequent and unique device in Miss Moore's poetry," Dr. SoRelle explained.

Canyon Student In Honor Group

Lon Conner, a senior at West Texas State University, has been initiated into Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology.

He resides at 2004 1st Ave. in Canyon with his wife, Beverly, and is pastor at Frio Baptist Church in Hereford.

Psi Chi was organized in 1928 under the sponsorship of the American Psychological Association, Washington, D.C., to recognize scholarship prowess in the field of psychology. Over 300 chapters have been established on campuses in all the states.

DEMOCRAT FOR CONGRESS

Dallas Firm Gives $1000 To University

Atlantic Richfield of Dallas has presented a $1000 check to West Texas State University Computer Information Systems Department (CIS). Presenting the check to Dr. Phil Gensler, CIS head, was R. L. "Dick" Williams, supervisor of performance systems at Atlantic Richfield. This is the third year that the company has made such an award.

"This is primarily due to the need for people in our business who are academically prepared to work in a computer systems environment," Williams said. "West Texas State University has been a leader in developing a curriculum in this area. It has been very noticeable in talking with the students and the employees we have had from WTSU."

"Everyone that we have had has done an excellent job, and they have been valuable employees," Williams pointed out.

Accompanying Williams on his trip to WTSU was his daughter Pam, who described the school as "very impressive."

Miss Williams, a senior in high school, has been looking at various colleges to decide where to attend.

The WTSU CIS Department students have participated in an internship program with Atlantic Richfield for several years, Gensler said.

"This kind of assistance from industry promotes an interaction between industry and education which I think helps us both," the computer professor said. "It keeps us up to date, and offers experiences for our students which we could not normally provide."

Gensler said that the money would be equally divided between scholarships, and equipment purchases for the department. Two $200 and one $100 scholarships will be offered, for which November 1 is the opening date for application.

Homecoming '74

Bonfire, Carnival, Contest Being Planned For University

One of the new features of this year's Homecoming celebration on the West Texas State University campus will be a babysitting service for those who wish to attend the carnival on November 1st.

The Texas Student's Education Association will provide the service free of charge in the University's education building between 4:00 and 11:00 p.m. on carnival day.

The carnival has taken the place of the traditional homecoming parade on the Canyon campus and has proved very successful. Student organizations from all quarters of the West Texas community have set up game booths to help raise money for their programs during the school year.

Another traditional part of the homecoming festivities is the bonfire. The effort is again sponsored by the Residence Hall Association, a group made up of university men and women dorm dwellers.

They've announced a goal of 180 thousand pounds of firewood for the fire that will be torched near the University's tennis center on Halloween night. As in previous years, the firewood will be scoured from the countryside surrounding Canyon. This year, some outside help is being added in the transportation department.

The 974th Quartermaster Company, U. S. Army Reserve of Amarillo, has agreed to loan the students two two and one-half trucks to aid in the wood-gathering operation. The Army unit is participating because of a new reserve program that encourages involvement in any program that aids in community improvement. Last year's 50 foot high stack of wood from rural outbuildings helped rid the area of some unsightly and in some cases dangerous collapsed structures. The University ROTC unit will supply drivers for the Army vehicles.

Howie Russell, Hale Center senior and chairman of the wood search, has announced the roundup will start the weekend of October 25 and 26. Anyone in the Canyon area interested in donating wood to the conflagration should contact Dean of Men Weldon Trice at 656-2741 or 656-2066.

Other homecoming activities planned put the emphasis on former students. This year's anniversary class is the group from 1925. Those exes will be honored at an anniversary dinner in the East Dining Hall at 7:00 p.m. after the 1300 homecoming football match between the Buffaloes and Lamar Tech.

From 10:30 to 10:45 a.m. on November 2, the annual meeting of Former Students will be held, followed by the Distinguished Alumni Brunch in the East Dining Hall. During that meeting two outstanding W.T. exes will be recognized for their contributions to the university and their communities.

Another highlight of the annual homecoming celebration is the Miss WTSU Pageant. This year, the 24 girls who've signed up for the eliminations will go through their paces on the stage of the Amarillo High School auditorium at 8:00 on Friday, November 1st. During that event, the reigning Miss WTSU, Sandy Skinner, will turn over her crown.

Valerie McCarthy, pageant director, lists the following coeds who will be judged on talent, swimsuit and formal attire modeling as well as personality judging for the crown of "Miss WTSU."

Coeds vying for the title include Diana Allen, Judy Burrell and Sherel Strecker of Amarillo; Elaine Beall of Duncanville; Paula Beauchamp of Dumas; Diann Berry of Andrews; Gayla Chamberland of Truth or Consequences, New Mexico; Candice Craver of Lubbock; Jean Foster of Fort; Mona Gale Gibson and Mary Lou Mercado, both of Hereford; Debbie LeGrand of Conroe; and Jan Jinks of Muleshoe.

Siesta Noticias Halloween Carnival Discussed

By DORIS McKEE
SIT DOWN, RELAX, put on the ole specks and let's read all the latest out Siesta way.

THE LADIES BUSY-BODY Club met Tuesday night at the recreation building for a social get together. Of course, there was some discussion about the upcoming Halloween Carnival. Don't forget ladies, we meet every Tuesday night at 7:30. We would be very happy for you to join us any and every time you can.

WE ARE VERY happy to have Jon Hoffman back. He entered the Santa Fe Hospital in Topeka, Kan., last Sunday and had surgery on Monday morning. He remained in the hospital there until this Saturday, when he flew back home. He is doing well and looks good, but will be off work for a while yet. I think I'll challenge him to a foot race in a few days.

FLOYD AND JONNIE Robertson and their sons, Joel and Darrel, are the proud occupants of a new 14 by 85 foot mobile home. It really is a beauty and I know they are really going to enjoy it. It was pulled in Friday afternoon and on Saturday morning help galore arrived. Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Oswald of Borger, Jonnie's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robertson of Sanford, Floyd's folks, and Jonnie's sister, Dale Nolen and her daughter, Shellie, both of Borger, came to help. Also noticed that Larry and Norma Weeter were right in there helping.

I HEARD THERE was a surprise birthday party for Earline and David Benham over the weekend. Seems both their birthdays are in October, so a joint celebration right about the middle of the month was the setup.

SEEMS SHARON JONES is having such fun at High Plains Baptist Hospital, she's just going to stay on. All kidding aside, a hospital stay is never fun when I talked to her Monday she didn't know when she would get to come home. Sure hope things get better real soon and they'll let her out of there.

KATIE AND ALBERT Rinne made a trip to Slaton this weekend. It seems Katie's father is in the Slaton hospital and her step-mother is in the hospital in Lubbock. She was to have surgery on Monday. We want to express our concern and to wish both of them speedy recoveries.

CONGRATULATIONS TO DORIS and Kenneth Wallace of 153 Siesta. It seems their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wallace of Temple, Tex., have a baby girl, born Saturday, Oct. 19, and weighed in at 8 lbs. They named her Trudy Ann. I asked Doris when they would go to see her, and she said as soon as possible. This makes Doris and Kenneth three grandchildren.

NORMA AND LARRY Weeter had houseguests over the weekend. It was Norma's folks, Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Langley of Phillips, Tex. Also learned that Larry and Norma and their kids spent last weekend visiting the Paul Mackey family in Lubbock.

ALL YOU MOTHERS who have children in Gene Howe and have a little time on your hands could join the Gene Howe Fan Club and work an hour or more each week to help out the teachers. Jonnie Robertson and myself worked a couple of hours this past week. It was a nice change of pace and a good feeling to help out.

BY THE WAY, is there a Cat-napper here in the park? Seems several people's cats are missing just this past week. Come on you guys, these cats are people's pets and they also help keep the mice away. If you want one go get your own!

FRIDAY AFTERNOON DALE West called home and told Pearl that he had to go to Oklahoma to check some heavy equipment and since he was going within a few miles of Amarillo, Okla., where Pearl's mother lives, she and Dusty would go with him.

They left Siesta after 6:00 and stopped in Weatherford, Okla. about 10:00, at the home of Danny and Brenda Knoll, formerly of Siesta, but no one was home. Pearl left a note. They drove on over to El Reno where they visited about an hour with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Willingham, formerly of Amarillo. They left there about midnight and drove into Oklahoma City, where they got a motel and slept awhile.

Saturday morning they drove to Roff where they visited Mrs. J.L. Hackworth, Pearl's mother, and Ruby Williams, Pearl's sister.

Saturday night they attended the wedding of Pearl's great nephew, Alvin Southerland in Ada, Okla. Pearl's nephew, Frank Hill and his family, from Honeygrove, Tex. were there also. Pearl and Dale also visited Dale's sister, Mrs. Hobart Robinson and Dale's brother, Jack West, both of Ada. They returned home Sunday night.

Some people sure can get in a lot of visiting in two days. By the way Dale did get the equipment checked.

PAT AND TEX Reed decided it was time to get their name in the paper again, so they went to Perryton, Tex. and spent the weekend with Bobbie and Tom Bradley. Bobbie is Pat's sister. The Bradleys live in a double wide mobile home. It is a 32 by 80, quite a large thing. Tex said you need binoculars to see across the room, so you know who you are talking to. All kidding aside, they had a very nice visit.

WELL, EUNICE AND Barney Rinehart did it again. This weekend they went to Quanah to visit Betty and Jodie Lemon. On Saturday they went out to Lake Pauline to do a little fishing but the fish had other ideas. No fishes caught.

Gladys and Guinn Davenport of Vernon and Katy and Johnny Ashcraft and their son, Matt, of Brownwood were in Quanah for the weekend, also. On Saturday night all drove over to Oklahoma to attend a dance. But when they got there it had been called off. That was a bad break for Eunice, she said she was really intending to kick up her heels. Better luck next time.

Sunday they had their luck with the fishing pole once more. But to no avail again. Seems this was this weekend's activity. You'll have to toss those poles and kick up those heels another time.

THE football report for the 4th grade team played in Georgia on Sunday afternoon and beat them 6 to 0. Mickey Bays brought his trophy over for me to see. It was engraved Champions. This team was undefeated. Their coaches took the team to Furr's Cafeteria to eat. Gosh, it sure pays to play on a winning team. Congratulations, Mickey, on a real good football season.

The 5th grade team played Wolfkin-Manning Thursday night in a make-up game. We did score but not near enough. Final was us 6 - Wolfkin-Manning 26. Tod McKee and Paul Qualls have played hard this season and we're not through yet. We will be playing in the upcoming Toy Bowl. So good luck team, we'll be right there rooting you on.

The 5th and 6th grades combined team has really tried hard this season. Roger Robertson, Shannon Jones and Michael Coffelt are three of the boys who make up this small team (only 12 boys came out). They have played very hard, but even at that they lost their game Sunday to South Georgia by a 20 to 0 score. I believe they are going to play in the Toy Bowl, also. Give it all you've got and that's all anyone can ask. Just remember it's not how you win or lose, but how you play the game.

A QUICK REMINDER that Paramount Baptist of Amarillo is still conducting Sunday School classes at 10:30 a.m. Sunday mornings in the recreation building. They'll be most happy to have you join them if you don't go somewhere else.

ALSO DON'T FORGET the upcoming Halloween Carnival at the recreation building on Oct. 31st. We'll be looking for you there.

GUESS I'LL PUT down the ole pencil for now. Keep reading. This week's thought: "Today's good deeds, are tomorrow's rewards."

See ya.

Happy News

By MARY NEAL HENRY
SEVENTEEN HAPPY COWBELLES were among the 300 attending the Second Annual State CowBelles convention in Amarillo this week. They were myself, presiding as State President, Othella McGehee, State Second Vice President; Ruth Sims, State Recording Secretary; Willie Butler, State publicity chairman; Vivian Woods, Happy CowBelle President; Judy Thompson, Bernice Hamblen, Modenia Rahlfs, Nell Sims, Mary Jane Miller, Willa Elliott, Jo Hand, Ruby Vise, Leona McFarland, Novalee Toles, Billie Pearson, and Vera and Bill Eubanks. Mr. Bill has never missed a convention.

The Board of Directors and their husbands were special guests at a dinner Sunday evening at the Hilton Inn. The Board meeting was also there. Before business was concluded, we were competing with a band playing for a dance next door — a memorable business meeting.

Registration began Sunday afternoon and again on Monday morning at 8 a.m. The general business meeting began at 9 a.m. with introductions and an opening address by Mrs. Don Ater of Ferriday, La. Mrs. Ater is the president-elect of American National CowBelles.

State reports and state chairmen reports were given. Business was reviewed and brought to a question of the delegates. Texas CowBelles adopted as a state project "BEEF GIFT CERTIFICATES." This will be a certificate purchased at your local bank and redeemable at any grocery store for BEEF. These will make wonderful Christmas gifts. We hope that employers will give their employees these as Christmas gifts and bonuses.

A goal that I hoped to achieve as State President was the sponsorship of a state 4-H project. The annual sponsorship of the 4-H Meat Identification and Demonstration Project. Dr. Frank Orts of Texas A&M helped me with this project and I thank him. This will cover the state of Texas. You will be hearing more about it.

This year, Texas almost doubled their membership and their number of local organizations. The year isn't over until January 1st, so we may accomplish this yet. We have 12 new locals and over 1700 members.

Other business included the editing and publishing of a Texas CowBelle Handbook, which will complete before the end of this year and a Home Economics Course on Beef.

Othella McGehee, State Beef Promotion Chairman, is responsible for the Home Economics Course. By-laws changes were also adopted.

Officers elected for 1975 are President, Mrs. Wayne Owens of Lubbock; 1st Vice Pres., Mrs. Jake Hess of McLean; 2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. Sherman Tanner of Wildorado; 3rd Vice President, Mrs. C.M. Bell of Pearsall; Secretary, Mrs. Byron Jones of Bovina; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Terry Williams; and Treasurer, Mrs. George Burnett. These officers take office on January 1.

Mrs. John Toles (Novalee) presented a report to the convention about the National Beef Cook-Off in Denver, Colo. I presented Novalee with the Sterling Silver CowBelle charm and bracelet for having represented Texas in the very first National Beef Cook-Off.

Another special treat was Robin Frost of San Jon, N.M. Robin is the 10-year-old daughter of Jane and Bob Frost, formerly of Happy and winner of the New Mexico State Beef Fair of 1974. Robin gave her demonstration of G.G.B.B.'s (Great Gran's Beefy Burgers). The crowd loved her. Mrs. Jelly Dorris and Michelle Frost were also present with Robin and Jane Frost.

The Awards Luncheon speaker was Dr. Gary Smith of Texas A&M. Dr. Smith reminded us that God made cattle. Genesis I tells us this. And God gave cattle to man and made man the master of them. Later in Genesis, God even considered cattle an acceptable sacrifice. Remember this, next time you have to defend cattle to some irate, unreasonable person. Dr. Smith went on to tell what red meat and protein were, why they were palatable or not and how all this occurred. All Happy's Aggies had said that we would enjoy Dr. Smith and they were all correct. We presented him with a CowBelle tie-tack.

Ruth Sims presented the sterling silver charm and bracelet to Dusty Jones of Bovina as winner of the human interest essay contest. Elen Avent presented Caprock CowBelles the $50 first prize for having formed the most locals in Texas. South Texas won second prize and third prize was split six ways. Mrs. J. Hal (Flores) Woodward of Pearsall, a South Texas CowBelle, won CowBelle of the Year and the gold charm bracelet.

I presented Bovina CowBelles a leather plaque for Outstanding Club of 1974. It was made by Bob Marrs of Stockman Saddle Shop, in the shape of Texas with the Texas CowBelle on it and tooled "Texas CowBelles — Outstanding Club — 1974," and with a flowered border.

Othella McGehee of Wayside and a Happy CowBelle and state officer, presented me with an oil painting of a windmill. She also led the benediction of the luncheon and the convention.

Mrs. J. Max Carpenter was convention chairman. Golden Spread CowBelles were convention hostess and assisting clubs were Happy, Bovina, Calico, Top 'O Texas, XIT, Oldham County and Hereford.

Vickie Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Abbott of Box 176 in Canyon, has been selected to be a member of Alpha Epsilon Chi women's social club at Lubbock Christian College (LCC).

Miss Abbott, a 1974 graduate of Canyon High School, is a freshman education major.

A nursery will be provided.

Students applied for these competitive scholarships at registration. To qualify for this aid, a student was to "be an accounting major and have completed six hours in the accounting field," Dr. Davis explained. The recipients were selected by the accounting faculty.

"Our purpose is to encourage scholarships in the field of accounting. We hope that we can increase our fund through donations from professional accountants, and other sources," the doctor said.

The five $200 awards went to the Cheryl Abarr, Kaci W. Jones, Emory Jule Minium, Donald Ruppner and Walter Stubblefield.

Gary Alan Hodges received a $100 grant, while the eight other students who were awarded $25 scholarships, were Bill Boatright, Kathy Dilworth, Gleen Garrison, Charles Hadad, Larry Oldham, Dan Popejoy, Randy Sublette and Becky Wesley.

Twelve all-region choir members including Terry Morrison, Jeanna Fulton, Kim Word, Beth Wannamaker, Twila Davis, Janna Umberson, Stan Sanders, Jack Cragg, Cory Ford, Richard Janelle, Kenny Stull and Dan Gerald will also be featured on the program.

She visited during the week with her daughters, Waulene Byars and Mr. and Mrs. Grayson (Juanita) Gathright and was also a guest in the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. John Davenport, and her grandson, Steven Byars, and visited with a niece, Mrs. Jerry Taylor, and the remainder of their families.

Service committee chairman, Mrs. Martin, announced that the chapter is this year sponsoring Connie Strieley of the Amarillo Children's Home. She was a guest in the Martin home during the week-end and celebrated her 13th birthday.

The closing ritual and Mizpah were followed with the program "Our Own Home" by Mrs. Don Rozell. Door prize for the evening was won by Mrs. Richard Bertrand.

THE ARNEY CLUB met last Thursday at the Arney Community House. As guest speaker, I attempted to explain CowBelles and their activities. Present were Carolyn Kimbrell, Guy Faye Via, Frances Hodges, Audrey Lee Hancock, June Hancock, Kathy Whitman and sons, and two Mrs. Cogburns. They presented me a golden and brown necklace as a gift.

Sixth Graders To Present Veteran's Day Program

By TROYCE MULHERIN
GREETINGS:
MONDAY, OCTOBER 28th, is the day, Gene Howe school is the place, and, 10:15 o'clock is the time. For what, you ask? For the Veteran's Day program to be given by our sixth graders, that's what.

Members of the choir will be treating us to several timely numbers, as will members of the sixth grade band. This little production is mainly due to the efforts of the youngsters. But, they will be the first to admit to a little help from Margie Phillips and from Mr. J. W. King. Margie is our music director at Gene Howe, and Mr. King is band director. All guarantee a good show. So, take some time out from your usual Monday schedule and treat yourself to this important event!

SPEAKING OF MR. King and the band — band students raising the most moneys by selling tickets to the Band Parent's Association's annual Spaghetti Supper have been announced.

Gene Howe band members Donna Storlie and Bill Davis tied for high ticket seller, with each selling more than twenty dollars worth of tickets. Johnny Brooks, of the Canyon Junior High was top money man in the Concert Band. Sherrie Manning, also of Canyon Junior High, sold more than her peers in the Symphonic Band. On the high school level, Sharla Stapleton rated first place in her band. Rex Reeves had two winners. One being Mike Hayes of the Woodwind Section; and, the other being Bob Eller of the Brass Section.

AS OF OCTOBER 15th, the deadline for the membership contest, the Gene Howe Parent Teacher Association membership was 525. Count them — 525! Of course, membership is still open to all who want to join. Dues are one little dollar per person.

On the primary level, (kindergarten through third grades) Pam Layman's first grade class won a banana split party by having the most parents join the PTA.

Gloria Taylor's fifth grade room and Charles Dowell's sixth grade room tied for the mostest in the fourth through sixth grades level. Each room was treated to banana split parties, too. Congratulations to all three of these rooms! Good job, well done.

THE PTA ALSO awards a banner, methinks it's called an Attendance Banner, following each PTA meeting. This blue and gold jewel is displayed, prominently and proudly, upon the door of the room having the most parents in attendance at such PTA meeting. During Back to School Night for the kindergarten through third grades, Mrs. Hollingsworth's afternoon kindergarten class managed to have more peoples visit than any other class.

During Back to School Night for the fourth through sixth grades, a certain fourth grade class earned the attendance banner. Which one? Guess. Oh, O.K. — it was Jeanie Miller's students who managed to talk most of their parents into visiting their school and their class that evening.

JOHN HICKS, SON of Johnny and Phyllis, became eight big years old as the 15th. Jay Edwards, Don Meier, Chris Seth, Delbert Hollis, DeWayne Kyle and Brett Copeland joined with John in the celebrating of his big day.

The youngsters greatly enjoyed a treasure hunt complete with clue sheets. The treasure hunt took quite a while, but the young men managed to get in a few more games and some party goodies eating before leaving one happy birthday boy behind at the Hicks' home.

SHEILA, DAUGHTER OF Johnny and Phyllis Hicks, found herself belonging to some proud parents this past weekend. She was in the swim of things again. This time it was the High Plains Invitational Meet in which she earned two third places in relays. The cause for the parental bragging, tho, was her earning an "A" rating in the 200 Free Style event. This is an important "A", and we commend Sheila for her perseverance and dedication. Good girl!

GENE HOWE'S APACHE Tribe of the Y Indian Guides gathered for a weekend Pow Wow at Camp Christmas Tree recently. Troy Cates, John Hicks, Steve Hord, and Kevin Wait joined with their dads in this fun time. Todd Bufkin and Mike Walsh, a new member, also participated in the over-night campout.

An interesting sidelight: After many futile attempts, and after many unheard pleas to the "fire god" to assist in the lighting of the bonfire, one enterprising father managed to get the fire going. Ask Mackey Hord, now known as "Torchy" how he managed.

COACHING A SOCCER team is one thing. Playing soccer is another. Ask Pat Seth or Pat Meier or Sarah Edwards, or for that matter, any other parent present during one certain game. It would seem that the opposing team didn't show one bright day. So, the above-named coaches coerced present parents to play against the youngsters.

Agreement to such proposition was their first mistake. The second mistake was hanging around (or dragging around, as the case may be) for the afternoon of "fun." The "Good Guys," otherwise known as parents, managed to last for two and a half quarters. The "Good Guys," otherwise known as the original soccer team, won the game!

HAVING PARTICIPATED IN a three-day workshop at the Art Center last week — it seems pointless to say that yours truly was out of pocket and out of reach of you would-be-telephone-newstoppers. So, try again. Call early mornings or late evenings.

Also took some time off Sunday to view the Doll Show. Would you believe a doll that cost a measly $2,200.00? Believe.

Believe. The dolls of today are nice. But, those oldies have a certain charm, other than monetary. Should have taken darling daughter — maybe she would dig her dolls out of the closet. Who knows.

SATURDAY WAS AN agonizing and tormenting day for yours truly. Had made offer-

Bake Sale Aids Needy

Canyon Community Family Service Organization collected $190 in proceeds from a recent bake sale to be used by the group for aiding the "needy of the city," according to Carmen Hernandez.

ing for the "Best of the Southwest Show." Wondering if the ol' windmill would be accepted was almost unbearable. The painting was accepted and is in the show! Thank goodness.

You see, I had promised handsome hubby that if my work was not accepted, I would give up painting and take up housekeeping. Thank goodness that I'm off that hook! Close call there.

Just where in the Rule Book does it say that the television set has to be going full blast, even if no one is watching? Just where? Show me the page and paragraph.

Just where in the Rule Book does it say that mothers are the only ones who are supposed to shut the cabinet doors? Just where? Show me.

And, what about who is supposed to put the stuff back in the frig; and who is supposed to wipe up spills; and who — this could go on and on. So, I will. Go, that is.

Thanks for the use of the hall. Troyce 352-6053

Teacher Offers Mini-Projects To Motivate Students

Jean Galloway, typing teacher at Canyon High School, has begun offering Typing 11 students mini-projects to motivate them in typing.

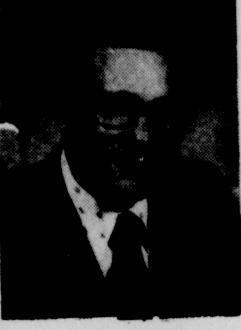

The mini-projects will last for three weeks. Ten projects are offered for students to choose from. A point system is used to motivate students to do the work. Students will evaluate their work at the end of each project.

The instructor stated that the mini-projects had two goals for each student — self motivation and self evaluation.

Areas in which the projects will aid the student are art typing, legal typing, itinerary typing, letter style, filing cards, communications, financial statements, choosing a career manuscript and potpourri.
